THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated September 6, 1961 on Alt. Applic. 29-61, reads:

"2. The proposed occupancy of a bldg. which exceeds the permissible tabular limits for like occupancy is contrary to Sec. 4.2.1 of B.C.

3. Proposed exits from storage garage without the required fireproof passageway from the interior of the bldg. are contrary to Sec. C26-273.0 subd. 5d of A.C.

4. The location of gasoline pump beyond the building line is contrary to Sec. C26-216.0 of A. C.

5. The proposed storage & parking of hearses on a floor not designed for 175 p.s.i. live load is contrary to Sec. C26-345.0 of A.C."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 75 feet by 145 feet in area, 1 story, 17 feet high, of class 3 construction, located in business use, B area and class 1½ height district, built in 1909, now used and occupied since 1923: cellar—boiler room and storage; 1st floor—garage for more than 5 motor vehicles and factory; substantially in accordance with Certificate of Occupancy #430 issued May 12, 1923 against Alt. Applic. 2730-21; that the proposed use and occupancy will be the same; that an accompanying zoning application 1224-21-BZ, Volume II has additional facts about the use of the premises; and

WHEREAS, the premises was inspected by a committee of the Board.

302-54-SM—Hohmann and Barnard Inc., New York City, filed for approval of the material known as Hohmann Gray Iron and Malleable Threaded Inserts under the provisions of C26-191.0 Administrative Building Code. The application was subject for dismissal September 19, 1961, but was removed at the request of the applicant.

USE: A threaded insert for suspension systems.

DESCRIPTION: The inserts are either of malleable iron conforming to A.S.T.M. A 47-33 or are of gray cast iron. The malleable is made in one size only, 5/8 inch.

The inserts are placed in the concrete to receive bolts for fastening mechanical devices. The inserts are furnished to receive threaded bolts. They are cast with ears at the top and ribs around the cylinder to provide greater bonding area. INSPECTION AND TEST: The applicant has submitted reports of pull out tests conducted by Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. The tests were conducted in stone concrete having a compressive strength of 3000 P.S.I. Results were as follows:

1/2" Grey iron—6700 lbs.
5/8" Grey iron—10200 lbs.
3/4" Grey iron—12500 lbs.—Concrete failure
7/8" Grey iron—13300 lbs.—Concrete failure
1" Grey iron—17300 lbs.—Concrete failure
5/8" Malleable—13000 lbs.

The complete report is on file with and is part of the record.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the material known as Hohmann Gray Iron and Malleable Threaded Inserts for voluntary use in New York City under the provisions of C26-191.0 as an insert, to receive bolts for mechanical fastenings and hangers for suspended ceilings under C26-461.1.0 in stone concrete having a minimum compressive strength of 3000 P.S.I. The Committee is of the opinion that a factor of safety shall be 4 and therefore recommends the following maximum loads:

Gray iron—1/2"—1700 lbs., 5/8"—2500 lbs, 3/4"—3100 lbs., 7/8"—3300 lbs., 1"—4300 lbs.

Malleable—5/8"—3200 lbs., on condition that all cartons in which the material is marketed shall be stamped or labeled "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 302-54-SM."

APPLICANT—George E. Strehan for Lally Column Co. of New York, owner.

APPEARANCES—

For Applicant: None.

ACTION OF BOARD—Application reopened and resolution amended in accordance with the report and recommendation of the Committee on Test.

THE VOTE—

Affirmative: Chairman Foley, Vice Chairman Kleinert, Commissioner Fox, Commissioner Becker and Commissioner Klein 5

Negative: 0

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

380-55-SM—Amendment to resolution as to eccentric loads on presently approved Lally columns.

George E. Strehan for Lally Column Co., of New York, requested that the resolution adopted July 21, 1959, under Calendar Number 380-55-SM be reopened and amended so as to include provisions for eccentrically applied loads.

USE: Lally columns used in construction.

DESCRIPTION: There has been no change in the construction or material used in the manufacture of the columns. The request is to allow the presently approved columns to be loaded eccentrically.

The applicant proposes to continue the design practice of connection details under the specified unit stresses as set forth under C26-368.0 and to compute the equivalent concentric load on the column in compliance with C26-368.c.4 governing combined stresses.

The following design procedure is proposed by the applicant:

1. For concentric loads—The value P shall be as computed by Formula 1 and 2 as approved by the Board July 21, 1959, under Calendar Number 380-55-SM.

MINUTES

2. For eccentric loads—For columns subject to both concentric loads and bending, and additional axial load is added to the sum of all vertical loads for each 10,000 in. lbs. bending moment expressed as Factor "f" in the Lally Co. load tables. The value "f" is determined by the following formula:

$$"f" = \frac{M \times A_t}{10,000 \times S_t} \text{ ————— Formula 3}$$

M = Moment of eccentric loads in inch pounds

A_t = Area of transformed section in sq. inches

$$= A_s + \frac{A_c}{9}$$

A_s = Area of Steel

A_c = Area of concrete

S_t = Section Modulus of transformed section

$$= 2 \frac{I_s + \frac{I_c}{9}}{d}$$

d = Outside diameter of round column, or width of square column or lesser side of rectangular column in inches.

In design the following procedure takes place. Select the column from the Safe Concentric Load Tables for which the sum of all vertical loads (P_a) plus the equivalent concentric load due to bending does not exceed the tabular value.

$$P = P_a + \frac{M \times "f"}{10,000} \text{ ————— Formula 4.}$$

The check by interaction—The value of the interaction formula shall not exceed unity as expressed by the following formula:

$$\frac{P_a}{P} + \frac{M}{20,000 S_t} \leq 1 \text{ ————— Formula 5.}$$

When the use of formula 5 results in a value less than 1, the next smaller size column is computed in order to determine if it is adequate for the condition.

The applicant has also submitted five tables as shown herein giving the moment of inertia, radius of gyration, section modulus of the transformed section for all types of lally columns together with the "f" value for the equivalent concentric load corresponding to each 10,000 inch lbs. bending moment for the size columns requested under this amendment.

The upper tubes of the walk through the ladder type frames and the upper and lower tubes on the conventional end frames are also of 1 5/8" O.D. x 0.095" wall thickness tubing. The ends are cut to match the legs and are welded thereto.

The step tubes, vertical braces, diagonal braces, cross braces and struts are constructed of 1" O.D. x 0.083" wall thickness tubing.

The stack pin is made of 1 5/16" O.D. x 0.095" wall thickness tubing, 7" in length and is provided with a 1/2" diameter hole drilled through 1" from each end.

A 3/8" diameter steel rivet 2" in length is provided for connection of the stack pin to the leg. A 1/8" x 3/4" cotter pin is employed to retain the rivet.

INSPECTION & TEST: Two panels (3 frames) were load tested in the presence of Mr. W. A. Cubberley, P.E.

The frames were spaced 10'-0" on center giving a total of 20'-0" of scaffolding and as each frame had a width of 5'-0", the test scaffold was 100 square feet in area, two tiers high, making a total of 13'-0" in height.

The loading was discontinued at a load of 30,000 pounds at which time there was very little deflection and on removal of the load there was no deflection. The complete report is on file with the record.

Evaluation of test results:

Total load carried on 3 frames = 30,000 lbs.

Load on each frame = 30,000 ÷ 3 = 10,000 lbs.

The Committee set the least factor of safety that may be applied in construction of this nature at 2.5 for the live load and 2.0 for the dead load on the heavy duty scaffold and 2.5 for the live load and 1.5 for the dead load on the medium and light duty scaffold.

Since this type of scaffolding is intended to replace timber scaffolding, the Committee is of the opinion that the allowable live loads shall be the same as allowed for timber scaffolding as set forth under the requirements of Rule 7.5.1 of the Demolition Rules of the Board. That is 75 lbs. per sq. ft. under Rule 1.24.3; 50 lbs. per sq. ft. for medium duty scaffold the functions of which are defined under Rule 1.24.10; and 25 lbs. per sq. ft. for light duty scaffold the functions of which are defined under Rule 1.24.7.

In calculating the lead load or weight of each frame for the 5'-0" high frame shall be 40 lbs., the incidental bracing for the same shall be 10 lbs. and the total weight of planking 2" thick shall be 5 lbs. per sq. ft.

APPEARANCES—

For Applicant: None.

ACTION OF BOARD—Adoption of General Resolution as to use of adhesives on acoustical tile.

THE VOTE—

Affirmative: Chairman Foley, Commissioner Fox, Commissioner Becker and Commissioner Klein 4

Negative: Vice Chairman Kleinert 1

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

WHEREAS, the Board had until prior to 1950, approved the installation of acoustical tile, by means of approved adhesives, for various manufacturers of acoustical tile which were marketed under various trade names and

WHEREAS, those manufacturers who applied for approval of their acoustical tile after 1948 were approved on condition that the tile could be installed only in a suspension system and

WHEREAS, those manufacturers whose acoustical tiles had been approved for adhesive application and who requested an amendment, at a later date, to their original approval, so as to include additional pattern on the face of the tile, additional trade name or other minor considerations had the original resolution amended on a condition that the newer tiles be installed in a suspension system and

Therefore, in lieu of reopening and amending all prior approvals of acoustical tiles to permit the installation of acoustical tile by adhesive means so as to bring all approvals to a standard basis, be it resolved that under the powers granted to the Board under C26-3.0 C26-4.0 and C26-189.0 Administrative Building Code that by the adoption of this general resolution, all acoustical tiles, approved prior to the adoption of this resolution may be installed by means of approved adhesives of a type recommended by the manufacturer provided that the tiles do not weigh more than 13/4 lb. per sq. ft., that the Calendar Number under which the tiles were previously approved be clearly indicated on the carton, that the weight of the individual tile and the recommended approved adhesive also be clearly indicated on the carton and that the installation comply with the requirements of the Fiber Board Rules of the Board except where the Board on specific approvals waived wholly or in part the requirements of said rules.

APPLICANT—Nytralite Aggregate Incorporated, owner.
APPEARANCES—

For Applicant: William W. Karl.

ACTION OF BOARD—Material approved in accordance with the report and recommendation of Committee on Test.
THE VOTE—

Affirmative: Chairman Foley, Vice Chairman Kleinert, Commissioner Fox, Commissioner Becker and Commissioner Klein 5
Negative 0

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads: 1208-61-SM—Nytralite Aggregate, Incorporated, West Nyack, New York, filed for approval of the material known as Nytralite (lightweight aggregate) under the provisions of C26-178.0.b, C26-10.0, C26-38.0.b.a.c.d.f.g., C26-315.0, C26-361.0, C26-363.0, C26-364.0, C26-365.0, C26-468.0 through C26-509.0, C26-522.0, C26-575.0, C26-620.0 and C26-630.0.

USE: Aggregate used in concrete.

DESCRIPTION: The material Nytralite (lightweight aggregate) is manufactured from shale that is expanded by the rotary kilns.

The raw shale is mined by the open quarry process and is then crushed and graded. The graded material is then fed into a rotary kiln where the temperature is maintained at 2100°F. At this temperature the shale is softened to the point of incipient fusion and a rapid expansion of gases takes place. This results in the formation of small individual non-connecting air cells which are vitreous and chemically inert. After cooling the aggregate is then graded from fine to coarse.

INSPECTION AND TEST: A comprehensive range of tests was determined upon by the Committee on Test. These tests included the following: Compressive strength, unit weight, modulus of elasticity, flexure strength, bond strength and determination of the properties of Nytralite when in flexure and subjected to fire. These tests were conducted on various water-cement ratios so as to give sufficient data to plot all curves necessary to evaluate the properties of Solite as an aggregate for concrete as accepted in general engineering practice.

All steel used for reinforcing conformed to the requirements of ASTM A-15 and A-305.

The complete report of the tests with all graphs are on file with and is part of the record. These tests were conducted at the plant of the applicant and were inspected by William A. Nolan, Director-Committee on Test.

RECOMMENDATION: Since it is the general intention of the applicant to apply for the approval of Nytralite (lightweight aggregate) as an all purpose aggregate for plain concrete average A and B concrete and controlled concrete, the Committee has taken into consideration only those sections of the Code pertaining to those classifications.

On this basis and the tests and the data supplied by the applicant, the Committee on Test, under the provisions of C26-3.0, C26-4.0, C26-189.0 and C26-191.0 Administrative Building Code, draws the following conclusions and recommends as follows insofar as granting approval under the various sections of the Administrative Building Code.

1. Section C26-10.a.b.—The Committee is of the opinion that Nytralite may be classed under the heading of Aggregate.

2. C26-315.0—Aggregate for reinforced concrete. The Committee is of the opinion, that under C26-189-0.C—Nytralite be approved as an aggregate for reinforced concrete as it meets the Standard Specifications for Light Weight Aggregate for Concrete ASTM Designation C331-53 and accordingly recommends approval under C26-315.0.

3. C26-361.0—The Committee recommends the approval of Nytralite as for aggregate plain concrete and (if a mix as described in the discussion of C26-365.0 is used) the Committee further recommends that the allowable working stresses be increased to 25% of the ultimate compressive strength.

4. C26-363.0—The Committee is of the opinion that the allowable working stresses used in the design of reinforced concrete structures may be established under C26-364.0 and C26-365.0 when using Nytralite as an aggregate and accordingly recommends the approval under C26-363.0.

5. C26-364.0—Controlled Concrete Proportions and Allowable Working Stresses—The Committee is of the opinion that the material Nytralite may be used as an aggregate for controlled concrete and recommends the approval as such.

6. C26-365.0—Average Concrete—Proportions and Allowable Working Stresses. The Committee is of the opinion, that, on the basis of the strength shown in the test and as C26-365.0.b does not prohibit the use of average concrete of different mix proportions provided the working stresses conform to the values as set forth under C26-365.3; Nytralite be recommended as an aggregate for average concrete and whose working stresses shall conform to the Table of Allowable Working Stresses as set forth under C26-365.3.

7. C26-468.0 through C26-509.0 (Reinforced Concrete Construction)—The Committee is of the opinion that Nytralite meets the requirements of C26-468.0 through C26-509.0 and recommends the approval of Nytralite as an aggregate for reinforced concrete.

8. C26-522.0 (Painting of Structural Steel)—The Committee is of the opinion that Nytralite meets the requirements of C26-533.0 as it may be considered as non-corrosive aggregate.

9. C26-522.0—As Nytralite meets the requirements of C26-38.0.b.c.f and g as noted in Paragraphs 5 and 6 above; the Committee is of the opinion that Nytralite meets the requirements of C26-570.0.

10. C26-630.0—The Committee recommends the approval of Nytralite as a top-filling as meeting the requirements of C26-630.0.

11. C26-620.0—The Committee is of the opinion that Nytralite may be used under the provisions of C26-620.0.

And further that the "N" value (Ratio of the Modulus of Elasticity of Steel to the Modulus of Elasticity of Concrete) shall be as follows:

Strength p.s.i.	"N"
1500	18.2
2000	16.7
2500	15.5
3000	14.5

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

217-62-SM—Belgian American Mercantile Corporation, agent for Dyckerhoff Zementwerke AG, filed for approval of the materials known as Portland Grey Cement, Type I and Type III as manufactured at the plant located at Lengerich-Westphalia, West Germany. The application was filed under the provisions of C26-312 of the Administration Building Code.

USE: Cement used for mortar, concrete and concrete products.

DESCRIPTION—LENGERICH PLANT: The clinker for Type I and Type III cement is manufactured at this plant by both the dry and wet process. The basic limestone quarry is located $\frac{1}{3}$ of a mile from the plant. It is company owned and consists of 86 acres with a life of 100 years. The raw material in the quarry consists of 76% to 90% CaCO_3 , Clay SiO_2 , and 3% to 4% ferrous oxide. It is unnecessary to import other raw materials other than gypsum from the Weser River or iron oxide from Italy. 6000 tons a day is produced from the quarry. The plant produces 1,000,000 tons of clinker a year.

Coal is imported from the Ruhr and oil from foreign countries. The kilns are fired with 50% coal and 50% oil in separate nozzles.

The basic limestone is removed from the quarry by railroad, then put through 2 primary roller type crushers. From there it goes through seven ball mills to be ground for the wet process. After grinding the raw material is introduced to 8 small silos for blending, then to 3 large slurry tanks of 2000 cubic meters each, then it is pumped to four wet kilns for calculation.

In the dry process, the raw material from the primary crushers is sent to 2 raw ball mills for grinding.

After that, the material is placed in 12 blending tanks then to 4 larger tanks for further blending, finally to 2—2000 cubic centimeter mixing tanks. The process here has a pelletizing or granulation tower prior to the introduction of the raw material to the kiln. The clinker from the 4 wet kilns and the 2 dry kilns is stored in huge clinker bins and in 4 clinker tanks for Type III processing. The clinker is then ground with gypsum in 5 large 2-compartment mills. There are 2 special mills for Type III cement. The finished cement is stored in silos for delivery.

METHODS OF CONTROL

1—At raw mills, samples every hour for fineness and CaCO_3 .

2—At small blending tanks or silos, every tankful or every 3 hours a sample is taken.

3—Clinker, as sample, is taken every hour for physical tests and litre weight.

4—Finished cement, every hour a sample is taken and tested for soundness, and strength.

Five autoclave expansion tests are made every day.

5—Three times a day, a chemical analysis is made of the clinker samples.

6—A 24-hour composite sample is made for complete analysis of the clinker and finished cement.

INSPECTION AND TEST: The plant of the applicant at Lengerich was inspected by a Committee on Test consisting of Chairman Max H. Foley and Director W. A. Nolan. Samples were taken at the mill by Robert W. Hunt Co., London, England and tested. The results reported by the Chicago office of R. W. Hunt were found to be in compliance with ASTM requirements for Type I and Type III Portland Cement. The laboratory at the plant did not have an ASTM tensile testing machine.

RECOMMENDATION: On the basis of the inspection and the data filed by the applicant, the Committee on Test recommends the approval of the material known as Portland Grey Cement, Type I and Type III, as manufactured at the Lengerich plant of the company for use in New York City, under the provisions of C26-312.0 Administrative Building Code, on condition that the owner shall submit monthly for a period of six months from the date of this resolution and annually thereafter, a certified copy of mill reports certifying that all cement manufactured at the applicant's plants and shipped into New York complied with all requirements of this resolution, including ASTM 150-61 requirements.

Laboratory tests as to tensile strength are to be done at the main Weisbaden laboratory of the company until the plant laboratory meets ASTM requirements.

It is also a recommendation that all bulk shipment of the cement shall be adequately protected during shipment so as to preclude the possibility of any moisture entering into the spaces in which the cement is stored and all ocean bills of lading shall be stamped "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 217-62-SM".

219-62-SM—Belgian American Mercantile Corporation, agents for Norddeutsche Portland Cementfabriken A. G. Höver, near Hanover, West Germany, filed for approval of the material known as Portland Grey Cement, Type I, under the provisions of C26-312.0 Administrative Building Code. USE: Cement used for mortar, concrete and concrete products.

DESCRIPTION: The clinker is manufactured by the dry process at this plant. The quarry is in the immediate vicinity of the plant and is composed of 80 acres with a 40 year life. In the quarry, the overburden is about 3 feet deep and the limestone is approximately 50 feet deep. The basic quarry material contains 77% of CaCO_3 , 13% SiO_2 , 3% Al oxide, 1.5% Fe oxide and the miscellaneous materials. The only outside material needed is gypsum which the plant imports from the Harz Mountains in West Germany. They get some coal for fueling the kilns from the U.S.A. and the rest from the Ruhr. 3500 tons a day is mined in the quarry and loaded by shovels into portable crushers at the mining face. Then the raw material is sent to 2 large crushers at the quarry for secondary crushing. After that the raw material is sent by belt conveyor to storage bins and silos. The raw material is ground in 3 rotary raw mills, sent to blending silos, preheated and then introduced to 4 dry kilns. After the clinker is delivered from the kilns, it is ground in 3 mills with gypsum being added in the process. The finished cement is conveyed to storage silos prior to packaging and bulk delivery to trucks and R. R. cars.

METHODS OF CONTROL

1. Quarry sampling is done monthly with complete chemical analysis.

2. At the raw mills every hour, a sample is tested for fineness and CaCO_3 .

3. At entrance to the kiln, every hour, a sample is taken to determine CaCO_3 .

4. The clinker weight per litre is determined by samples taken every hour.

5. Complete chemical and physical analysis of a combined sample of clinker is done every 24 hours.

6. The same analysis is done with the finished cement.

INSPECTION AND TEST: The plant of the applicant at Höver, near Hanover, West Germany, was inspected by a Committee on Test consisting of Chairman Max H. Foley, and Director William A. Nolan. DESCRIPTION: The clinker is produced by the dry process at this plant. The quarry is located $\frac{1}{2}$ mile from the plant and consists of 400 acres owned by the company with an expected life of 75 years. In the quarry the overburden is 9 feet deep and the limestone about 25 feet deep. After the basic raw material is mined, it is transported to the plant in R.R. cars. The material as mined consists of 74% CaCO_3 , 20% SiO_2 , 10% Ferrous and Aluminum oxides plus miscellaneous ingredients. A high percentage limestone is imported from Warsten, Germany for blending with the raw material. Gypsum is hauled from the Weser River area. Coal is delivered from the Ruhr. From the primary crushers, the material goes to 2 raw grinding mills, then to 3 blending tanks, then to a final blending tank. The material is preheated before introduction into two rotary kilns, one of which has a Fuller cooler and the other a rotary cooler. The coal used for the kiln is ground and dried before use in the kiln. When the clinker is discharged from the kiln and cooled, it is sent to one rough mill, then to 6 other two-stage mills for finishing. Gypsum is added during the grinding process. 257-62-SM—Belgian American Mercantile Corporation, agents for Teutonia Misburger Portland Cementwerk at Misburg near Hanover, West Germany, filed for approval of the material known as Portland Grey Cement, Type I, and Type III, under the provisions of C26-312.0 Administrative Building Code.

USE: Cement used for mortar, concrete and concrete products.

DESCRIPTION: The clinker is produced by the dry process at this plant. The quarry is about 300 feet away from the plant, the company owns about 70 acres and figures the life of the quarry at 100 years. There is but little overburden and the basic limestone is over 100 feet deep. The quarry material is 77% CaCO_3 , 13% SiO_2 , 3% Al oxide and 1.5% Fe oxide plus other miscellaneous materials. No clay, sand, or other materials are moved in from outside sources for the basic raw materials contain the necessary mix for processing. Gypsum is delivered from the Harz Mountains. Coal is obtained from the Ruhr.

The quarry produces about 2500 tons per day of mined material. After drilling and blasting, the material is loaded on R. R. cars by a shovel, then sent to a Hammermill crusher within the quarry. A conveyor belt takes the material to a raw mill storage shed. Coal is unloaded at a barge basin, sent by a conveyor belt to a storage bin. It is ground and dried before being used to fire the kilns.

There are 4 kilns fed by raw material that is dried, ground in 3 raw dryers and 4 raw mill grinders. The material for these 4 kilns is blended in silos before being introduced to the kiln.

A fifth kiln called a Humboldt type kiln, receives raw material from the raw storage hall and with a machine attached to the kiln, dries and grinds the raw material, preheating it before introduction to the kiln. The clinker from the five kilns is stored in a huge shed alongside the gypsum storage. When clinker and gypsum are needed they are blended, weighed and ground in 2 three-phase ball mills and 3 two-phase ball mills. There are 2 one-phase ball mills for extra grinding for Type III cement. The finished cement is sent to nearby silos for packaging and delivery to trucks, railroad cars and barges.

METHODS OF CONTROL

1. Quarry sampling is done twice a week with complete chemical analysis.

2. Every hour samples are taken at the raw mills and tested for fineness and CaCO_3 .

3. Every hour the clinker weight per litre is determined.

4. Complete chemical and physical analysis of a combined sample of clinker is done every 24 hours.

5. Every hour a finished cement sample is taken and tested for fineness, setting and soundness.

A complete chemical and physical analysis of combined cement samples is done every 24 hours.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

259-62-SA—M. Kweller for American Permac, Incorporated, Merrick, N. Y., filed for approval of the appliance known as Permac Dry Cleaning Machine (Coin Operated) Model Permette II under the provisions of the Board's Rules Covering Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments.

USE: Coin operated machines for dry cleaning using perchlorethylene as solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The Permac Model Permette II is a completely automatic dry cleaning unit made with two separate washer baskets assembled into a completely self-contained unit with a single 122 gallon capacity bottom tank with solvent cooler, 2 washer motors, 2 extractor motors, 2 recovery housings with fan motors, 2 lint traps, 2-8 K.W. air heaters, 2 spray jet solvent recovery systems, 2 button traps, 2 water separators, 1 metallic filter, 1 solvent pump, 1-14 K.W. electrically heated solvent still with condenser and 2 sets of automatic controls to operate the washer baskets independently of each other.

A complete cleaning and drying cycle takes approximately 20-22 minutes with a 12 to 15 lb. load. Both baskets are operated and controlled by individual program cylinders whose impulses are executed electrically as well as pneumatically, air supplied at 65 psig. The program cylinders can be exchanged to vary the cycle.

The washing cycle takes place at 34 RPM followed by the extraction cycle at 480 RPM after which the drying cycle is initiated with a start of the fan motor, the spray jet condenser, which recovers solvent, and the thermostatically controlled air heater coil. This cycle continues until the clothes are dry.

Condenser water is to be discharged into a plumbing system approved by the Department of Buildings.

A safety switch mounted on each loading door frame automatically activates the fan whenever the door is opened and further it prevents operating the machine unless the door is closed. Once the machine starts the door remains closed until the full cycle is complete. In case of power failure the door will remain locked in closed position until power is restored and the unit completes the cycle.

INSPECTION AND TEST: The data submitted with the application was examined and it was noted that the washer basket measured 32 inches in diameter and 14 inches deep or 6.50 cubic feet.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee recommends the approval of the appliance known as Permac Dry Cleaning Machine (Coin Operated) Model Permette II for use in New York City where permitted in the Zoning Resolution and when installed in accordance with the Board's Rules for Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments provided that each machine bears a label, permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 259-62-SA."

The committee further recommends that on each machine there be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 18.20 pounds, for each basket and that all electrical installation work conform to the Electrical Code of the City of New York, and that exhaust air flow through the loading door opening shall be at least 100 cubic feet per minute.

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:
604-59-SM—Concrete Plank Co., Inc., Jersey City, New Jersey, filed for approval of the material known as Precast Concrete Fire Proofing and Precast Concrete Plank Floor under the provisions of Section C26-239.0 Administrative Building Code.

USE: A composite fire resistive floor and/or roof construction.

DESCRIPTION: The floor and ceiling assembly consists of a $3\frac{1}{2}$ " thick precast concrete plank with a $2\frac{1}{2}$ " thick topping in which electrical raceways and junction boxes are placed supported by a steel beam protected with a specially designed concrete unit for beam protection.

The plank used in the floor construction are $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches thick formed with tongue and grooved side edges and with square ends. The planks 16 inches wide, excluding the $\frac{1}{2}$ inch tongue. The planks are reinforced with wire fabric, top and bottom and in addition $\frac{3}{4}$ " by $\frac{3}{4}$ " by $\frac{1}{8}$ " angles are cast in the planks at the ends for weld attachment.

The beam protection units are basically channel in shape; 2 inch thick at the web, and $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches long.

The junction boxes are $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches thick, 10 inches wide and are of cast iron. The raceways are $2\frac{7}{8}$ inches wide, $1\frac{3}{8}$ inches high and have a metal thickness of $\frac{1}{16}$ inches.

The concrete topping, poured to a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches is of a 1:2:2 mix.

In construction, the beam protection units are placed around the beam with the $\frac{1}{2}$ in. joints filled with perlite concrete mortar. As the units are placed, the edges are buttered with mortar and then set on the bottom flange of the beam. The units are installed on one side of the beam first and then on the other.

The concrete planks are then placed and are attached with 1 inch welds at each corner between the $\frac{3}{4}$ inch angles and the supporting steel. The planks are placed with tight joints and have a $3\frac{1}{2}$ inch bearing on the steel. The joints between planks are then grouted.

The raceways and junction boxes are then placed on top of the plank and the $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick concrete topping is then poured on top of the plank.

INSPECTION AND TEST: A construction as herein described was tested at the Underwriters' Laboratory in accordance with the requirements of Section C26-609.0 as revised by the action of the Board under Calendar Number 521-60-GR. The beam and slab were loaded to a stress of 20,000 p.s.i. The construction successfully met the requirements of a four hour fire resistive floor and/or roof construction. The complete Underwriters' Report Retardant 4247-1 is on file with and is part of the record.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the material known as Concrete Plank Precast Concrete Fire Proofing and Precast Concrete Plank Floor as a component part of a four hour fire resistive floor and/or roof construction with clear span not to exceed 8' 0" for use in New York City under the provisions of Section C26-239.0 Administrative Building Code, on condition that the construction shall be as herein described and in accordance with the drawings included as part of the Underwriters' report Retardant 4247-1 which is on file with and is part of the record, on condition that all plans filed with the Department of Buildings showing the proposed use of this construction shall be stamped "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 604-59-SM" and further that when junction boxes are used in conjunction with this system, the limit shall be no more than one junction box per 90 sq. ft. of floor area.

The WATCHMEN shall see that all doors and windows are closed so as to prevent the spread of fire. The WATCHMEN shall be the only persons permitted to remain on the floor during the progress of a fire drill and do so at their own risk. For ordinary purposes only one watchman and a substitute shall be designated. In special cases, however, extra watchmen may be assigned by consent in writing from Fire Commissioner.

Rule 4. Duties of Searchers.

The MALE AND FEMALE SEARCHERS shall search all toilets, dressing rooms and emergency rooms used and frequented by their sex and all other portions of the floor and order all persons, except those authorized to remain, to leave the premises. They are to take care of and assist all persons who may faint or be disabled.

SEARCHERS shall leave the floor immediately after the last squad leaves.

Rule 5. Duties of Street Alarm Box Runner.

The STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall be familiar with the location of the nearest city fire alarm box and know how it is operated.

In ordinary practice fire drills the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall report to the Foreman for orders, and if his services are not required he shall promptly file out of the premises with the other occupants.

Only when a fire actually occurs on his floor, or when ordered to do so by the Foreman, shall the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER proceed to the street alarm box and send in the fire alarm.

Rule 6. Duties of Fire Brigade.

The fire brigade shall have full charge of the operation of all auxiliary fire fighting apparatus and shall endeavor to extinguish, or at least hold in check until the arrival of the Fire Department, any fire that may occur. When it is necessary for the fire brigade to respond to different floors in the building they shall not use the stairways or fire escapes while the occupants are escaping from the premises.

Rule 7. Duties of Exit Guards.

The EXIT GUARDS shall station themselves at all exit doors leading to fire escapes, stairways, and other means of escape immediately upon the sounding of the alarm. There shall be two guards for each exit, if practicable; one to stand in the hallway holding back the door and the other directly inside on the floor. They are to keep the exit doors open and direct the movements of the persons using these exits and prevent congestion.

EXIT GUARDS shall remain at their stations until all of the occupants of the building have passed their station. Then close their doors and pass out of the building. Upon signal for the occupants to return, EXIT GUARDS shall take their designated stations and remain there until all persons have returned to their respective floors.

Rule 8. Duties of Squad Monitors.

The SQUAD MONITORS, as soon as the alarm is sounded, shall see that the employees under their charge quickly form into line, two abreast, and numbering not more than thirty to each squad. They shall see that all aisles and passageways are cleared of obstructions.

Note: Chairs, stools, baskets, etc., should be pushed under or placed on top of work benches.

MONITORS shall proceed at the head of their respective squads to the exit assigned, and then march up or down the stairs or to other exits as directed by the EXIT GUARDS.

On reaching the sidewalk MONITORS shall keep their squads in order and lead them a reasonable distance from the building, so as not to cause congestion and interference with fire apparatus. When the proper signal is given they shall return to their respective floors at head of their squads.

MONITORS will at all times see that those under their charge conduct themselves in a respectable and orderly manner.

Rule 9. Holding of Drills.

FIRE DRILLS shall be held at least once each month at varied hours of the day, and all of the occupants shall participate therein simultaneously. Such drills shall conduct all occupants to a place of safety.

Where dual operation interior fire alarm systems are installed as permitted under Rule 10.1 of the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the fire drill conducted each month shall include all of the persons on the premises engaged at work for a factory, and drills shall be conducted at least twice, each year in which all of the persons on the premises shall participate simultaneously.

Rule 10. Duties of Owner.

It shall be the duty of the OWNER, LESSEE OR TENANT OF THE BUILDING or his authorized agent or their representatives to personally observe that the "Fire Drill" is held simultaneously on every floor of the building and the participation therein of every occupant of such building. Any FIRE DRILL in which all of the occupants do not participate shall not be considered as complying with the LAW, except as otherwise provided in these rules.

The person or persons representing the OWNERS, LESSEE OR TENANT, who supervises the FIRE DRILL at the building shall submit to an examination by the Division of Fire Prevention as to their experience and general fitness for such duties, and shall be so certified in writing by the FIRE COMMISSIONER.

It shall be the duty of the ENGINEER, SUPERINTENDENT or other PERSON IN CHARGE, of a building having an interior fire alarm system to test such system daily, immediately after the beginning of business, and to see that all apparatus operated by springs, requiring winding are rewound after each alarm and kept in normal condition for operation.

Rule 11. Duties of Engineer.

Whenever it is necessary to test the fire alarm system at any other time of the day, owing to repairs, etc., being made, the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING will first notify all Foremen of the several floors of the intended test and likewise notify them when the repairs, etc. are completed. This precaution is taken to prevent confusion and excitement, also misunderstanding of the alarm signals.

It shall also be the duty of the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING to sound the interior alarm system at irregular intervals, but not less than once each calendar month, for the purpose of holding practice fire drills. He shall keep on the premises a record of such drills, showing the date when held and the required time for all occupants to reach the street or a point of safety outside the building.

The PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING must immediately acquaint new tenants of the existence of the "Fire Drill" Organization and its purport.

Rule 12. Registration.

The name and address of every person, corporation or co-partnership, that will, under professional service, carry on the trade, business or calling of establishing, maintaining or supervising the "Fire Drill" shall be registered in the Fire Department, which Department shall, upon evidence of fitness, grant a certificate to that effect.

RULES

Fire Drill Rules, Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 5, 1923

(593-23-SR)

DEFINITION OF "FIRE DRILL"

The method and practice of the systematic and orderly vacating of a building by its occupants in case of emergency, panic or fire in the least possible time—by the nearest safe means of exit—and the use of fire appliances which shall be provided for the extinguishing or retarding of fire and the safeguarding of human life.

Rule 1.

In all buildings as defined in Article 1, Section 10 of the Labor Law in which fire drills are required pursuant to Section 279 thereof and in any other building in which such drills are required by the Fire Commissioner pursuant to the power conferred in section 491 of the New York City Charter, it shall be the duty of the owners, lessees or tenants to conduct fire drills monthly and at such other times as the Fire Commissioner may direct.

For the purpose of conducting such fire drills the owner or tenants shall appoint from among their employees such responsible and dependable persons, male or female, who shall efficiently perform the duties of the various positions of the fire drill organization, as specified on the accompanying chart.

It shall be the duty of the owner or tenant to enter in the blank spaces provided for that purpose in said chart the names of persons so selected and post said chart and copies of the rules in a conspicuous place.

Rule 2. Duties of Foreman.

The Foreman or Person in Charge shall direct, enforce and have full charge of the "Fire Drill" in every factory on each floor. Each day before work is begun he shall see that extinguishers, fire hose, fire buckets, etc., are in readiness for use, exit doors are unlocked, aisles are free from obstruction, that stairways, halls, etc., are properly lighted, and shall remedy any dangerous condition found to exist. Immediately after work is commenced he shall check up the Fire Drill Organization list and note if the regularly assigned persons are present; if any are found to be absent, he shall assign other employees (if practicable) to perform their duties.

He shall immediately notify new employees of the existence of the Fire Drill Organization and give them the necessary instructions as to the duties they are to perform, etc.

He shall be familiar with the operation and location of the interior alarm signal box on his floor.

He shall listen for the test signal each morning at the appointed hour and in the event of the test signal not being heard he shall communicate with the superintendent or other person in charge of the building and advise him of the fact. The (Floor Captain's) Foreman's orders are final as to the carrying out of the fire drill on his particular floor.

Rule 3. Duties of Watchmen.

The WATCHMEN shall see that all doors and windows are closed so as to prevent the spread of fire. The WATCHMEN shall be the only persons permitted to remain on the floor during the progress of a fire drill and do so at their own risk. For ordinary purposes only one watchman and a substitute shall be designated. In special cases, however, extra watchmen may be assigned by consent in writing from Fire Commissioner.

Rule 4. Duties of Searchers.

The MALE AND FEMALE SEARCHERS shall search all toilets, dressing rooms and emergency rooms used and frequented by their sex and all other portions of the floor and order all persons, except those authorized to remain, to leave the premises. They are to take care of and assist all persons who may faint or be disabled.

SEARCHERS shall leave the floor immediately after the last squad leaves.

Rule 5. Duties of Street Alarm Box Runner.

The STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall be familiar with the location of the nearest city fire alarm box and know how it is operated.

In ordinary practice fire drills the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall report to the Foreman for orders, and if his services are not required he shall promptly file out of the premises with the other occupants.

Only when a fire actually occurs on his floor, or when ordered to do so by the Foreman, shall the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER proceed to the street alarm box and send in the fire alarm.

Rule 6. Duties of Fire Brigade.

The fire brigade shall have full charge of the operation of all auxiliary fire fighting apparatus and shall endeavor to extinguish, or at least hold in check until the arrival of the Fire Department, any fire that may occur. When it is necessary for the fire brigade to respond to different floors in the building they shall not use the stairways or fire escapes while the occupants are escaping from the premises.

Rule 7. Duties of Exit Guards.

The EXIT GUARDS shall station themselves at all exit doors leading to fire escapes, stairways, and other means of escape immediately upon the sounding of the alarm. There shall be two guards for each exit, if practicable; one to stand in the hallway holding back the door and the other directly inside on the floor. They are to keep the exit doors open and direct the movements of the persons using these exits and prevent congestion.

EXIT GUARDS shall remain at their stations until all of the occupants of the building have passed their station. Then close their doors and pass out of the building. Upon signal for the occupants to return, EXIT GUARDS shall take their designated stations and remain there until all persons have returned to their respective floors.

Rule 8. Duties of Squad Monitors.

The SQUAD MONITORS, as soon as the alarm is sounded, shall see that the employees under their charge quickly form into line, two abreast, and numbering not more than thirty to each squad. They shall see that all aisles and passageways are cleared of obstructions.

Note: Chairs, stools, baskets, etc., should be pushed under or placed on top of work benches.

MONITORS shall proceed at the head of their respective squads to the exit assigned, and then march up or down the stairs or to other exits as directed by the EXIT GUARDS.

On reaching the sidewalk MONITORS shall keep their squads in order and lead them a reasonable distance from the building, so as not to cause congestion and interference with fire apparatus. When the proper signal is given they shall return to their respective floors at head of their squads.

MONITORS will at all times see that those under their charge conduct themselves in a respectable and orderly manner.

Rule 9. Holding of Drills.

FIRE DRILLS shall be held at least once each month at varied hours of the day, and all of the occupants shall participate therein simultaneously. Such drills shall conduct all occupants to a place of safety.

Where dual operation interior fire alarm systems are installed as permitted under Rule 10.1 of the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the fire drill conducted each month shall include all of the persons on the premises engaged at work for a factory, and drills shall be conducted at least twice, each year in which all of the persons on the premises shall participate simultaneously.

Rule 10. Duties of Owner.

It shall be the duty of the OWNER, LESSEE OR TENANT OF THE BUILDING or his authorized agent or their representatives to personally observe that the "Fire Drill" is held simultaneously on every floor of the building and the participation therein of every occupant of such building. Any FIRE DRILL in which all of the occupants do not participate shall not be considered as complying with the LAW, except as otherwise provided in these rules.

The person or persons representing the OWNERS, LESSEE OR TENANT, who supervises the FIRE DRILL at the building shall submit to an examination by the Division of Fire Prevention as to their experience and general fitness for such duties, and shall be so certified in writing by the FIRE COMMISSIONER.

It shall be the duty of the ENGINEER, SUPERINTENDENT or other PERSON IN CHARGE, of a building having an interior fire alarm system to test such system daily, immediately after the beginning of business, and to see that all apparatus operated by springs, requiring winding are rewound after each alarm and kept in normal condition for operation.

Rule 11. Duties of Engineer.

Whenever it is necessary to test the fire alarm system at any other time of the day, owing to repairs, etc., being made, the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING will first notify all Foremen of the several floors of the intended test and likewise notify them when the repairs, etc. are completed. This precaution is taken to prevent confusion and excitement, also misunderstanding of the alarm signals.

It shall also be the duty of the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING to sound the interior alarm system at irregular intervals, but not less than once each calendar month, for the purpose of holding practice fire drills. He shall keep on the premises a record of such drills, showing the date when held and the required time for all occupants to reach the street or a point of safety outside the building.

The PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING must immediately acquaint new tenants of the existence of the "Fire Drill" Organization and its purport.

Rule 12. Registration.

The name and address of every person, corporation or co-partnership, that will, under professional service, carry on the trade, business or calling of establishing, maintaining or supervising the "Fire Drill" shall be registered in the Fire Department, which Department shall, upon evidence of fitness, grant a certificate to that effect.

NOTICE

The Board has adopted the following procedure in handling Administrative (interpretive) Appeals filed to review decision of the Borough Superintendents on questions involving the legality of administrative interpretation and application of provisions of the new Zoning Resolution:

1. Plans required shall consist of eight copies on paper 8½" x 11" in size, except that where acceptable to the Director, such plans may be of a size which can readily be folded to fit the Board's binders.
2. Such plans need only be sufficient, in the opinion of the Director, as to clearly illustrate the points involved.
3. Date of hearing shall be set as expeditiously as possible, allowing sufficient time for one publication in the Bulletin.
4. Where sufficient number of appeals have been decided on a question, which in the opinion of the Director are applicable to a General Resolution, the Director shall, under a selected calendar number, recommend to the Board, the adoption of a General Resolution.
5. Upon the assignment of a date of hearing on the adoption of a General Resolution, the Director shall notify the Commissioner of Buildings, the Architects Council, and the various architectural and engineers societies; and such other interested parties as he may deem affected by the question involved.
6. At the public hearing on a proposal to adopt a General Resolution the Commissioner of Buildings and any other interested parties may appear or may file briefs setting forth their positions on the matter involved.
7. The Director shall furnish each member of the Board with a copy of his report recommending the adoption of a General Resolution, which report shall include a summary of prior actions by the Board on Administrative (interpretive) Appeals involving the same question.
8. A permanent cumulative subject index shall be maintained by the Director of all such appeals properly indexed so as to be readily referable to the sections of the Zoning Resolution involved.

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, on September 29, 1954, this application was granted by the Board on certain conditions; and

WHEREAS, this application was reopened and the term extended for ten years on February 26, 1952; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the only document missing is the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Superintendent of the Department of Buildings on the Amendment which was offered for filing, but which has been refused for the following reason: that about a month ago, he appeared in person at the Building Department in Brooklyn's Borough Hall, prepared to file the amendment for such a decision; that the Building Department refused to accept the Amendment or to take action on his request without its file on the original decision which was brought before the Board in 1924; that the file has apparently been lost by the Building Department; that for the past four weeks, he has made several trips to the Building Department, have seen the members of the Department to whom he was referred, and has made every effort to file the file, with and without the aid of Building Department personnel; that all efforts have proven fruitless; that the time is now too short to hope that some miracle will resurrect the Building Department file in time for a decision to be issued upon which the Board may act; that he therefore requests advice on how, under the circumstances described, he may place the matter on the Calendar of the Board in order to obtain the necessary extension of the variance that has existed for almost twenty years; that the owner and lessee of the property should not be made to suffer any loss of rights by reason of clerical deficiencies in the Brooklyn Building Department; and

MINUTES

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the area surrounding the site has been altered principally through the so-called Cadman Plaza redevelopment project, which includes the general rehabilitation of downtown Brooklyn, the establishment of the Brooklyn Civic Center and the widening of Fulton Street; that the triangular block bounded by Fulton, Pierrepont and Clinton Streets was mostly razed and a new public library branch erected at the northernmost apex of that triangle; that the balance of the block now contains a single office building and the main office of the Brooklyn Savings Bank; that a large area on the west side of Clinton Street, north of the Crescent Building, at the northwest corner of Clinton and Pierrepont Streets, was converted to use as a parking lot; that the property continues to be partly in a business use and partly in a residence use district, although the designations are now C-6-4 and R-8; and

WHEREAS, the applicant requested reopening of this application and extension of the term of variance, which had expired by time limitation February 26, 1962 under Section 11-411 of the Amended Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, this application was reopened on March 27, 1962 and set for hearing on May 1, 1962 at 10 A.M., requiring a new decision of the Borough Superintendent and two publications in the Bulletin; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 1, 1962 after due notice by publication in the Bulletin; laid over to June 12, 1962 for decision as to extension of the term of variance pending action by the Board of Estimate; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated March 6, 1962 acting on B.N. Applic. No. 533-42, reads:

"These premises were the subject of a conditional variance by Bd. of S. & A. under Cal. 376-42-BZ for a period of ten years ending Feb. 26, 1962. Extension of time for an additional term must be submitted to Board of S. & A. for approval."

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted on September 29, 1942 as amended through February 26, 1952 only as to the term of the variance, so that as amended it shall read:

"granted for a term which is to extend only until title to the property passes to the City, and is not, in any case, to extend more than one year from the date of this amended resolution, to permit . . . ; that other than as herein amended the resolution above cited shall be complied with in all respects; and that a new Certificate of Occupancy shall be obtained."

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated October 4, 1961 on Alt. Applic. 1472-61, reads:

"4. Proposed extension of a wood frame business building is contrary to Sec. 4.2.1 B.C.

5. Proposed stair to 2nd floor dwelling opening on 1st floor business occupancy is contrary to Sec. 6.1.2.2.5 B.C."

500-60-SM—Electro-Sonic Laboratories, Inc., New York, filed for approval of the material known as Kulihat under the provisions of C26-461.0 Administrative Building Code.

USE: Cone shaped perforated aluminum sound absorber.

DESCRIPTION: The Kulihat is cone shaped absorber consisting of perforated aluminum sectors held together by steel clips. The three sectors form an obtuse angled cone and if two sectors, only, are used the result is an acute angled cone. The overall size of the three sector hat is 33" in diameter by 9½" high and the size of the two sector hat is 21" in diameter by 15" high.

Sound absorbing batts, usually of mineral wool, are placed inside the hat.

The weight of a three sector hat and absorber totals one pound.

The mounting fitting consists of a galvanized spring, a twisted wire fastener and an aluminum top cone.

In installing, a hook is inserted in the ceiling and the spring is hung on the hook and the twisted wire fastener to the spring. The hat is then raised against the ceiling so that the wire fastener emerges through the center hole. The top cone is then placed so that the wire fastener passes through the hole in the top cap and the wire fastener is then pulled tight and is hooked through the hole in the top cap.

APPEARANCES—

For Applicant: E. J. Head.

ACTION OF BOARD—Material approved, in accordance with the report and recommendation of the Committee on Tests. The plant is to be inspected by a committee of the Board.

THE VOTE—

Affirmative: Chairman Foley, Vice Chairman Kleinert, Commissioner Fox and Commissioner Klein 4

Negative: 0

Absent: Commissioner Becker 1

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

511-61-SM—Colonial Sand and Stone Company, Inc., for Cinchfield Coal Co., Dante, Va., filed for approval of the material known as Clinchlite (Light Weight Aggregate) under the provisions of C26-178.0.b, C26-10.0, C26-38.0.a.b.c.d.f.g, C26-315.0, C26-361.0, C26-363.0, C26-364.0, C26-365.0, C26-468.0 through C26-509.0, C26-522.0, C26-575.0, C26-620.0 and C26-630.0.

USE: Aggregate used in concrete.

DESCRIPTION: Clinchlite is an expanded shale lightweight aggregate. The shale is crushed to specific sizes and fed into rotary kilns where the temperature is maintained at 2100°F. At this temperature, the shale is softened to the point of incipient fusion and the heating of the gases nearly to the explosion point expands the shale forming tiny non-connecting air cells in the shale. Upon cooling, this material solidifies into a hard clinker.

After cooling the material is crushed and screened to size.

INSPECTION AND TEST: A comprehensive range of tests was determined upon by the Committee on Test. These tests included the following: Compressive strength, unit weight, modulus of elasticity, flexure strength, bond strength and determination of the properties of Clinchlite when in flexure and subjected to fire. These tests were conducted on various water-cement ratios so as to give sufficient data to plot all curves necessary to evaluate the properties of Clinchlite as an aggregate for concrete as accepted in general engineering practice.

All steel used for reinforcing conformed to the requirements of ASTM A-15 and A-305.

The complete report of the tests with all graphs are on file with and are part of the record. These tests were conducted at Manhattan College, Protexol and Froehling and Robertson.

RECOMMENDATION: Since it is the general intention of the applicant to apply for the approval of Clinchlite (a lightweight aggregate) as an all purpose aggregate for plain concrete average A and B concrete and controlled concrete, the Committee has taken into consideration only those sections of the Code pertaining to those classifications.

On this basis and the tests and the data supplied by the applicant, the Committee on Test, under the provisions of C26-3.0, C26-4.0, C26-189.0 and C26-191.0 Administrative Building Code, draws the following conclusions and recommends as follows in so far as granting approval under the various sections of the Administrative Building Code.

1. Section C26-10.a.b—The Committee is of the opinion that Clinchlite may be classed under the heading of Aggregate.

2. C26-315.0—Aggregates for reinforced concrete. The Committee is of the opinion that, under C26-189.0.C—Clinchlite be approved as an aggregate for reinforced concrete as it meets the Standard Specifications for Light Weight Aggregate for Concrete ASTM Designation C331-53 and accordingly recommends approval under C26-315.0.

3. C26-361.0—The Committee recommends the approval of Clinchlite as an aggregate plain concrete and if a mix as described in the discussion of C26-365.0 is used, the Committee further recommends that the allowable working stresses be increased to 25% of the ultimate compressive strength.

4. C26-363.0—The Committee is of the opinion that the allowable working stresses used in the design of reinforced concrete structures may be established under C26-364.0 and C26-365.0 when using Clinchlite as an aggregate and accordingly recommends the approval under C26-363.0.

5. C26-364.0—Controlled Concrete Proportions and Allowable Working Stresses—The Committee is of the opinion that the material Clinchlite may be used as an aggregate for controlled concrete and recommends approval as such.

6. C26-365.0—Average Concrete—Proportions and Allowable Working Stresses. The Committee is of the opinion, that, on the basis of the strength shown in the test and as C26-365.0.b does not prohibit the use of average concrete of different mix proportions provided the working stresses conform to the values as set forth under C26-365.3; Clinchlite be recommended as an aggregate for average concrete and whose working stresses shall conform to the Table of Allowable Working Stresses as set forth under C26-365.3.

7. C26-468.0 through C26-509.0 (Reinforced Concrete Construction)—The Committee is of the opinion that Clinchlite meets the requirements of C26-468.0 through C26-509.0 and recommends the approval of Clinchlite as an aggregate for reinforced concrete.

8. C26-522.0 (Painting of Structural Steel)—The Committee is of the opinion that Clinchlite meets the requirements of C26-522.0 as it may be considered as non-corrosive aggregate.

9. C26-522.0—As meets the requirements of C26-38.0.b.c.d.f. and g as noted in Paragraphs 5 and 6 above; the Committee is of the opinion that Clinchlite meets the requirements of C26-570.0.

10. C26-630.0—The Committee recommends the approval of Clinchlite as a top-filling as meeting the requirements of C26-630.0.

11. C26-620.0—The Committee is of the opinion that Clinchlite may be used under the provisions of C26-620.0.

The Committee on Test therefore recommends the approval of the material known as Clinchlite (Lightweight Aggregate) under the provisions of the Administrative Building Code as mentioned herein, on condition that each shipment of Clinchlite be accompanied by a bill of lading bearing the following statement "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 511-61-SM" and further that the design mixes with the corresponding Modulus of Elasticity of Concrete for the various strengths be as follows:

P.S.I.	$E_c \times 10^6$
2000	1.50
2500	1.60
3000	1.70
3500	1.80

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

1172-61-SM—The Indiana Brass Co., Inc., filed for approval of the material known as Indiana Brass Co., Anti-

Siphon Float Valve, Model 197 for use in New York City under the provisions of the Submerged Inlet Rules of the Board and C26-1277.0.h, Administrative Building Code.

USE: Anti-siphoning float valve for use in flush tanks.

DESCRIPTION: The back siphoning principal of the Model 197 ballcock has no working parts or gate valve but a direct opening to the outside atmosphere sufficient to prevent back flow under reduction of water pressure. The critical level is also marked to be able to read from front or top of tank. The vacuum breaker portion is made from moulded high-impact polystyrene, the plunger and seat are from moulded nylon.

INSPECTION AND TEST: All data was examined by Assistant Architect T. W. Farricker.

Tests were conducted by the City of Detroit, Department of Buildings and Safety Engineering, Detroit, Michigan, to check the location of the critical level mark on the unit, the shut-off valve was held in the full open position. The tank was filled with water, the level of which was at the critical level mark on the unit. The refill tube was submerged, and 28 inches of mercury vacuum was applied to the water inlet, no backsiphonage occurred.

The Committee had decided to accept the City of Detroit's report in lieu of further testing.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the material known as Indiana Brass Co., Anti-Siphon Float Valve, Model 197 for use in New York City under the provisions of the Submerged Inlet Rules of the Board and C26-1277.0.h, Administrative Building Code on condition that the ballcock comply with the requirements of the report of the City of Detroit and that the ballcock be installed in the fixtures it serves, so that the distance between the critical level mark and the overflow of the fixture will be at least (1) one inch. The Committee further recommends that the device shall bear a label, permanently affixed, reading, "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 1172-61-SM" or in lieu thereof within a circle around the periphery at the top the words "Approved" and below "B.S. & A." in the center on one side the letters "N.Y.C." on the other side "1172-61-SM."

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

47-62-SM—The Tile Council of America, Inc., Princeton, N. J., for Kaiser Manufacturing, Inc., Houston, Texas, filed for approval of the material known as Crest Tile Set Compound for use in New York City under the provisions of Article 3, C26-191.0, Administrative Building Code.

USE: As a self-curing portland cement mortar for setting ceramic tile on floors and walls.

DESCRIPTION: The Crest Tile Set Compound is a water retentive Portland Cement Mortar, with the addition of organic chemicals, usable with or without sand, which eliminates the necessity of soaking either the tile or backing surfaces before installation.

This compound is called "dry-set" because it has the capacity to retain water needed for curing the portland cement. The material is primarily portland cement, developed to make possible to set dry wall tile on dry cinder blocks and even on gypsum wall board by means of a thin setting bed, to which has been added less than 2% of certain polymeric material. The polymeric additives when it has dissolved or emulsified acts to increase the viscosity of the mix water and thereby retain sufficient moisture to effect cure of the cement in thin layers. Another feature of the mortar is the adhesion or bond strength increased over that obtained with straight portland cement.

The dry-set mortar can be spread directly on the backs of sheets of mounted ceramic mosaics without wetting the paper. Thus, the paper remains strong and tile does not come loose. Later paper is wet for removing it but not until the mounted tile has been fixed in position. In similar manner this mortar is useful for setting mesh mounted tile.

The bond of the dry-curing mortar formulations to ceramic mosaics is 150 PSI and more than 400 PSI is obtained with dry wall tile.

The material is supplied as a concentrate to which portland cement is added, as a premix ready for use, and as a sanded premix. It is suitable for use in interior and exterior installations.

INSPECTION AND TEST: Samples of the material were identified by Assistant Architect T. W. Farricker, Board of Standards and Appeals, Harold Perrine, P.E. representing manufacturer, Frank E. Bennett, Tile Council of America Research Center and Director John Koenig, School of Ceramics, Rutgers University. Assistant Architect T. W. Farricker, Board of Standards and Appeals, witnessed shear tests on the material at the Tile Council of America Research Center, Princeton, New Jersey.

The report is on file with and is part of the record.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the material known as Crest Tile Set Compound for voluntary use in New York City, for setting and grouting ceramic tile when used in accordance with the manufacturer's specifications on condition that the containers in which the material is marketed shall be tagged, stamped or labeled: "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 47-62-SM."

The following reports and recommendations of the Committee on Test were approved by the Board on March 13th, 20th and April 10th, 1962.

934-60-SA

APPLICANT—Haus and Bresin for Standard, Incorporated, owner.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

934-60-SA—Haus & Bresin for Standard, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas, filed for approval of the Standard Twinette Dry Cleaner, under the provisions of the Board's Rules Covering Coin-Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments.

USE: Coin-operated dry cleaning machines using perchlorethylene solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The Standard Twinette machine consists of two cylinders operating independently of one another. The washing, extracting and drying cycle is accomplished separately within each cylinder. Each cylinder is 21 inches in diameter and 17 inches deep and is made of epon coated steel of 8 gauge. During the washing cycle the cylinder rotates at 49 r.p.m. and during the extraction cycle the cylinder speed is 920 r.p.m.

The drying cycle employs electric heaters with output of 4000 Btu to provide the hot air for drying the clothes in each cylinder.

The solvent tank is common for both cylinders and is constructed of 7 gauge steel and has a capacity of 96 gallons. The filter is common for both cylinders and is of the tubular type with a capacity of 800 gallons per hour. A single Marlon circulating pump is provided for the twinette unit. An exhaust is electrically interlocked with the cylinder door to operate when the door is opened. Also each cylinder door is provided with an interlocking device to prevent the opening of the door while the cylinder is in motion.

A separate condenser is provided for each cylinder to condense solvent vapors during the drying cycle. The condenser uses city water and discharges to the plumbing system approved by the Department of Buildings. No refrigeration is used.

The drain line from each cylinder to the solvent storage tank is equipped with a dump valve. This dump valve is actuated by a timer and a solenoid to open during the extraction cycle. The dump valve is energized when in an open position and de-energized when in a closed position. This dump valve can be manually opened to drain solvent back to the storage tank in the event of mechanical or electrical failure.

INSPECTION AND TEST: The data submitted was examined and it was noted that the cylinder capacity was 3.4 cubic feet for each.

RECOMMENDATION: The committee recommends the approval of the appliance known as the Standard Twinette Dry Cleaner for use in New York City under the provisions of the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR and where permitted in the Zoning Resolution, provided that each machine will bear a label, permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 934-60-SA".

The Committee further recommends that on each machine there be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 9.52 pounds for each cylinder.

All electrical installation work shall conform to the Electrical Code of the City of New York.

Exhaust air flow through the loading door opening shall be at least 100 cubic feet per minute.

APPLICANT—Westinghouse Electric Corporation, owner; ALD, Incorporated, Distributor.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

457-61-SA—Westinghouse Electric Corp., Mansfield, Ohio, filed for approval of the Westinghouse Drycleaner DC-20 Drycleaner with FS-20 Filter under the provisions of the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR.

USE: Coin operated dry cleaning machine using Perchloroethylene as the solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The equipment consists of the dry cleaning unit with its associated solvent conditioning system.

The main components are as follows:

Blower: squirrel-cage design and is mounted at the top of the machine and comes into use during the extraction period. As the wash cycle ends, the heater and blower start. The heated air is blown through the clothes to extract and recover more of the solvent.

Charging tank: is a tank mounted on the base pan at the rear of the machine through which the solvent flows from the tub and into which the chemicals are added to prepare the solvent for cleaning.

Condenser: a formed coil of copper tubing with copper fins. The condenser is mounted in a sealed container so that the condensed vapors may be drained through a separator tube, back to the storage tank. The condenser tubes are piped to the water supply line with an electric water solenoid at one end and to the floor drain at the other leading to a plumbing system approved by the Dept. of Buildings.

Filter tank: Cylindrical tank with a 23 gallon capacity. The purpose of this filter is to remove from the solvent, which is constantly in circulation, all soil.

Heater: located in the dry system to aid in the extraction of the cleaning solution.

Tub: porcelain enamel 25½" in diameter by 15" deep.

Storage Tank: the tank is of such size that it can store solution for two tanks, if the tanks are installed in pairs and it has a capacity of 65 gallons.

The supplemental equipment consists of pumps, motors, valves, solenoids, timer, pressure switches and all necessary electrical relays and connections.

At times a refrigeration water cooler is used when the water temperature exceeds 80°F and when so used, the refrigerant used in the water chiller is Freon 22.

INSPECTION AND TEST: Drawings of the appliance were examined and the size of the basket was found to be 25½" in diameter by 15" deep but due to its internal construction it has a cubic capacity of 3.99 cubic feet.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the appliance known as Westinghouse Drycleaner Model DC-20 Drycleaner with FS-20 Filter under the provisions of the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR and where permitted under the Zoning Resolution provided that each machine bear a label permanently affixed reading, "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 457-61-SA".

The Committee further recommends that on each machine there be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 11.17 lbs.

The Committee further recommends that all electrical work conform to the Electrical Code of the City of New York and further that in the event of any malfunction, the door of the appliance shall remain in the locked position until the machine is placed in an operable condition and the cycle completed.

Exhaust air flow through the loading door opening shall be at least 100 cubic feet per minute.

668-61-SA

APPLICANT—Haus and Bresin for International Duplex Corporation, owner.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:
668-61-SA—Haus & Bresin for International Duplex Corp., San Francisco, Calif., filed for approval of the Duplex Cleanway Coin Operated Dry Cleaner, Model DWDC-1 under the provisions of the Board's Rules Covering Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments.

USE: Dry cleaning machines using perchlorethylene solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The Duplex dry cleaner is a coin operated dry cleaning machine designed for installation in stories. The machine is a combination washer, extractor and dryer, performing all operations automatically within the machine after the starting switch has been actuated by inserting the necessary coins. The solvent used in this dry cleaner is perchlorethylene, a non-combustible synthetic solvent.

This drycleaner consists of a perforated metal basket constructed of 16 gauge vitreous enamelling steel with an inside diameter of 25½" and a length of 12¾" to the center of the dished rear panel, and a length of 15¾" to the rear panel at the periphery.

The basket or cylinder rotates within a solvent-tight tub constructed of 16 gauge steel. The tub diameter is 27¾", and the tub length is 18". The cylinder rotates at a speed of 52 R.P.M. during the washing and drying cycles, and at a speed of 420 R.P.M. during the extraction cycle. The machine is equipped with a condenser to remove all water vapor from the clothing and solvent and to discharge same through a drain line in a plumbing system approved by the Dept. of Buildings.

For drying, the machine is equipped with two electric heating elements of 2850 watts capacity as manufactured by Cutler Hammer Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

In conjunction with the Duplex washer, there is a solvent filtration and reprocessing system, using the Duplex #200 Cartridge Filter. This unit removes solid matter, color, and fatty acids from the solvent and delivers it to the dry cleaning machine at proper operating temperatures. It is completely self-contained in all respects and does not require muck tank, muck cooker, or external storage tanks.

Recharging the filter consists merely of replacing the used cartridges with new units. Color and fatty acids are removed by circulation of perchlorethylene through the throw-away type filter cartridges.

Contaminated fluid from the dry cleaner passes through a lint and button trap to remove large foreign matter and is carried to solvent storage by the drain pump. This pump runs whenever any of the dry cleaning machines connected to the filter system are in a cleaning cycle. A second pump, which runs during all operating hours, pulls solvent from the 110 gallon storage tank and forces it through the filter cartridges and thence to the dry cleaning machines. In order that an even line pressure be maintained so that each machine receives just the proper amount of solvent, regardless of the number operating, a pressure by-pass valve is incorporated. Clean solvent thus replaces dirty in the storage tank.

In this manner solvent is kept continually clean and available when called for. Solvent is maintained at proper temperature for most efficient cleaning by means of a cooling coil located in the bottom of the storage tank.

Each drycleaning machine is equipped with an exhaust vent. These exhaust vents are manifolded together and discharged to the outer air through metal piping with taped joints. A blower is provided to maintain a static pressure at all times within the exhaust duct. After the drying cycle is completed, the exhaust system continues to operate until the machine has been purged of vapors, and the door cannot be opened until this purge period is completed. The machine is so arranged that it cannot operate while the loading door is opened. After the door is closed and the machine starts to operate, a solenoid operated mechanical interlock closes over door cam, preventing door handle from being turned during the balance of the cycle. If this handle is somehow forced open, a double pole, double throw, door switch would automatically start the fan, thereby exhausting all fumes in the machine to the outer air.

Each dry cleaning machine is equipped with a condenser using water as the cooling agent. The water is discharged to the plumbing system as warm water after it has run through the condenser. No refrigerant is used in connection with condensing operations.

Solvent drains by gravity from the dry cleaning machine to the storage tank. This drain line is equipped with a dump valve which remains closed during the washing cycle.

MINUTES

At the end of the washing cycle a timer operates a solenoid which opens the dump valve. In the event of mechanical or electrical failure, the dump valve can be manually opened from outside the machine so as to drain the solvent into the storage tank. An overflow line is also provided at a point lower than the bottom of the loading door.

INSPECTION AND TEST: The data submitted was examined and it was noted that due to the internal construction the basket capacity was 3.54 cubic feet.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee recommends the approval of the appliance known as the Duplex Cleanway Coin Operated Dry Cleaner, Model DWDC-1 for use in New York City under the provisions of the Dry cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR and where permitted in the Zoning Resolution provided that each machine will bear a label, permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 668-61-SA".

The Committee further recommends that on each machine there will be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 9.91 pounds.

All electrical installation work shall conform to the Electrical Code of the City of New York.

Exhaust air flow through the loading door opening shall be at least 100 cubic feet per minute.

838-61-SA

APPLICANT—International Marketing Corporation, agent for Hard Metal Fabricators, Ltd., owner.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

838-61-SA—International Marketing Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa., for Hard Metal Fabricators, Ltd., Toronto, Canada, filed for approval of the IMC Dry Cleaning Unit under the provisions of the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR.

USE: Coin operated dry cleaning machine using Perchloroethylene as the solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The machine is a coin operated, completely self contained fully automatic dry cleaning unit, consisting of two separately chargeable assemblies combined with a single tank.

The unit is completely self contained with its own perchlorethylene storage tank, filter, washer, blowers and reclamation system, including a refrigeration plant for solvent cooling.

The storage tank acts as a base and support for the complete unit and is located under the cleaning cabinets and during the washing or extraction cycle all solvent is returned to the storage tank. The high level point of solvent in the tank is 3" from the top at which time there are 75 Imperial gallons or 90 U.S. gallons.

The filter has 21 tubes with a total of 17 sq. ft. of area and is mounted within the solvent storage tank. The flow through the filter tubes is about 800 Imperial gallons or 960 U.S. gallons per hour.

The pump is located on the back of the storage tank and is equipped with a three way valve or 2 two way valves to draw the solvent from within the filter tubes or from the outside of the tubes within the storage tank area.

On the opposite side of the pump is another two way valve which, if closed, directs the solvent flow through the washing heads and through the pressure by-pass to the storage tank. When the valve is opened it allows the solvent to pass through the muck trap.

The drain or dump valve is electrically operated and normally open so that under any conditions of failure the washing cylinder will empty of all fluids. During the off cycles, the valve contains a self closing gravity controlled lid at the overflow hole acting as a check to prevent fumes from going up into the cylinder.

The washing cylinder is 21" in diameter by 17" deep having a volume of 3.41 cu. ft.

The solvent cooler consists of a refrigeration unit with a cooling coil immersed in the solvent in the storage tank.

The unit has three exhaust blowers, one which is in continuous operation and serves to remove any fumes which may be in the immediate vicinity and is exhausted through a common duct.

The water separator receives all fluids condensed by the condensing unit and separates the perchlorethylene and drains it back to the tank while the water drains off externally to a plumbing system approved by the Dept. of Buildings.

The loading door is protected by an interlock so that the door cannot be open while the machine is in operation, however, upon an electrical failure, this interlock will release, allowing the door to open.

INSPECTION AND TEST: Drawings of the appliance were examined and the size of the basket was found to be 21" in diameter by 17" deep having a volume of 3.41 cu. ft.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the appliance known as IMC Dry Cleaning Unit for use in New York City where permitted in the Zoning Resolution and when installed in accordance with the Board's Rules for Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments provided that each machine bear a label permanently affixed reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 838-61-SA". The Committee further recommends that on each machine there be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 9.55 pounds.

APPLICANT—Bill Glover, Incorporated, owner; Kay Bee Equipment Corporation, agent.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads:

852-61-SA—Bill Glover, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri, filed for approval of the Glover Stainless Steel Dry Cleaner Unit Model CD under the provisions of the Board's Rules Covering Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments adopted under Calendar 156-62-SR.

USE: Coin operated dry cleaning equipment using Perchloroethylene as the solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The unit is a self contained single basket type. The component parts consist of the washer extractor and the washing, drying and extraction is accomplished within this single basket. The basket is 30 inches in diameter by 15 inches deep and is made of stainless steel.

MINUTES

The drying cycle employs electrically heated air to provide the hot air necessary to dry the clothes.

The filter has a capacity of 1,200 gallons of solvent per hour.

The other main components are the solvent tank, solvent pump, powder feeder, drain valve, muck receiver, by-pass valve, condenser coils (water cooled) recirculating blower, water separator, controls and exhaust blower.

In operation, with each dry cleaning solvent cycle fresh filter powder is added to the filter, muck and lint are removed and the solvent is drained from the muck and the same filter powder is not reused on subsequent loads.

Each time the unit enters into the drying cycle, following the solvent rinse and spin, the following operations automatically takes place.

Electrically heated air is forced through the top of the tub and through the clothes, the vapor laden air is drawn off at the bottom of the tub, the vapor and lint laden air passes through the lint catcher then to the condenser, the condenser converts the solvent and water vapors to a liquid, this liquid is then passed through a separator, that diverts the solvent back to the storage tank and the water to waste. The purified air from the condenser is picked up by the blower fan and is forced through the heater and back through the clothes, thus establishing a completely closed circuit.

After the clothes are dry, the blower in the closed recirculating circuit shuts off and a second blower comes on drawing fresh air through the clothes and exhausting through a vent duct.

INSPECTION AND TEST: Details of the appliance were examined by Assistant Engineer J. A. Darts, and it was noted that the basket capacity was 6.17 cubic feet.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the appliance known as the Glover Stainless Steel Dry Cleaner Unit Model CD for use in New York City when installed and operated in accordance with the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR and where permitted by the Zoning Resolution provided that each machine bear a label permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 852-61-SA".

The Committee further recommends that on each machine there shall be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 17.28 pounds.

The Committee further recommends that all electrical installation work shall conform to the Electrical Code of the City of New York.

It is further recommended that this appliance may be marketed by Hoffman under the trade name of Hoffman Coin Operated Dry Cleaner.

APPLICANT—Maestrelli Importing Corp., owner.

WHEREAS, the report of a Committee on Test reads: 1649-61-SA—G. Maestrelli Costruzioni Elettromeccaniche, Milan, Italy, filed for approval of the Maestrelli Coin Operated Dry Cleaner Model Thunderbird under the provisions of the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR.

USE: Coin operated dry cleaning machine using Per-chlorethylene as the solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The unit consists of three washer wheels, each individually activated by a coin mechanism, mounted in one base cabinet. The wash wheels are of stainless steel, 28 inches in diameter by 14½ inches deep giving a cubic capacity of 5.17 cu. ft. Each basket has its own door protected by means of an automatic lock.

The drying, recovery and deodorizing section consists of three coolers to condense the solvent vapors in the system. A stainless steel water separator which automatically separates the condensate. An electric heater of 6 kilowatts is installed for each basket.

The distillation section consists of an oil encased all electric type still. The solvent inside the still is brought to boiling point by 6 kw. heating elements in an oil filled jacket.

The filter section consists of a rotary disc type filter. The filtration starts when any or all wheels are started.

The cooling section consists of two brass tube coolers located on the base tank.

The solvent tank section consists of one large tank which constitutes the base frame for the three wheels and the washers and the other component parts are placed on the frame.

The control section consists of valves for filtering and pressure reduction of the air and for activating all compressed air parts.

The door of the wash wheels is equipped with an automatic safety lock which keeps the door closed and locked during the entire operating cycle.

After the washing, the solvent is drained from the cylinder and is returned to the tank. The wet garments remain in the wheel and there the drying cycle takes place; this is done by centrifugal action.

After the drying cycle is complete, a deodorizing cycle begins which removes the solvent laden air from the cylinder and condenses it to liquid and returns it to the tank.

INSPECTION AND TEST: Details of construction were examined by Assistant Engineer J. A. Darts. The basket was found to be 28 inches in diameter by 14½ inches deep giving a cubic capacity of 5.17 cu. ft.

RECOMMENDATION: The Committee on Test recommends the approval of the appliance known as Maestrelli Coin Operated Dry Cleaner Model Thunderbird for use in New York City under the provisions of the Dry Cleaning Rules of the Board adopted under Calendar Number 156-62-SR and where permitted in the Zoning Resolution, provided that each machine bear a label, permanently affixed, reading, "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 1649-61-SA".

The Committee further recommends that on each machine there be displayed its maximum dry load capacity of 10.48 pounds.

The Committee further recommends that all electrical installation work shall conform to the Electrical Code of the City of New York.

Cleaning Machine, Model C.O. 6-1 under the provisions of the Board's Rules Covering Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Establishments.

USE: Coin operated dry cleaning machine using perchlorethylene as solvent.

DESCRIPTION: The Detrex Model C.O. 6-1 consists of six cleaning units, made in banks of three, which are piped together with a 250 gallon solvent storage tank, filtering equipment, electrically heated solvent still, separator and the necessary control valves, pumps and timing mechanism. Cold water is used to condense solvent vapors in the still and in the exhaust.

The wash, drain, extract and aeration times are fixed. The drying cycle is controlled thermostatically and the drying time varies with the type of garments. A sensing element located in the front casing automatically opens the circuit to the heating elements and advances the timer into aerate cycle when sufficient solvent has been evaporated from the clothes. The average complete cycle is from 28 to 32 minutes. Washing speed is 52 rpm and extractor speed 300 rpm.

A door safety solenoid located on the front panel assembly allows the door to be opened only when the drycleaning tumbler is stopped and solvent dump valve open. Machine operation and mechanical exhaust are electrically interlocked. Pressure switches in the solvent and condensing water supply heaters will react in case of below normal operating pressure. Condenser water is discharged to a plumbing system approved by the Dept. of Buildings.

INSPECTION AND TEST: The data submitted with the application was examined and it was noted that the washer basket measured 26 inches in diameter by 14 inches deep or 4.35 cubic feet.

RECOMMENDATION: The committee recommends the approval of the appliance known as Detrex Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Machine, Model C. 2.2 The term "CABINET BOOTH" when used in these rules shall mean a compartment with a back, top and two sides of incombustible materials over a substantial metal frame and equipped with air exhaust facilities, located within a room or any portion of any premises where spraying with any flammable paints, varnishes, lacquers or any other flammable substances, mixtures or compounds commonly used for painting, varnishing, staining or similar purposes is carried on.

2.3 The term "CANOPY BOOTH or HOOD" when used in these rules shall mean an installation consisting of a metal canopy or hood, without any side or end panels enclosing the object sprayed and an air exhaust system under which spraying with any flammable paints, varnishes, lacquers or any other flammable substances, mixtures or compounds commonly used for painting, varnishing, staining or similar purposes is carried on.

2.4 The term "TUNNEL BOOTH" when used in these rules shall mean a compartment consisting of two sides and top, equipped with an air exhaust system in which spraying with any flammable paints, varnishes, lacquers or any other flammable substances, mixtures or compounds commonly used for painting, varnishing, staining or similar purposes is carried on.

2.5 The term "SPRAY ROOM" when used in these rules shall mean a fully enclosed ventilated room approved for such use in which any article or thing is sprayed by any flammable paints, varnishes, lacquers or any other flammable substance, mixtures or compounds commonly used for painting, varnishing, staining or similar purposes is carried on.

2.6 The term "DIPPING ROOM" when used in these rules shall mean a fully-enclosed ventilated room approved for such use in which any article or thing is dipped, or immersed in any flammable paints, varnishes, lacquers or any other flammable substances, mixtures, or compounds commonly used for painting, varnishing, staining or similar purposes is carried on.

2.7 The term "FIREPROOF or FIRE-RESISTING PARTITIONS" used in these rules shall mean the standards set in the Labor Law and the Rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals for factory buildings. All openings in this type of partition shall only be equipped with self-closing fireproof assemblies.

2.8 The term "STORAGE ROOM" when used in these rules shall mean a fully-enclosed ventilated room used for the storage and mixing of any inflammable paints, varnishes, lacquers or any flammable substances, mixtures or compounds commonly used for painting, varnishing, staining or similar purposes.

RULES

2.9 The term "CERTIFICATE OF FITNESS" when used in these rules shall mean the written permission granted by the Fire Commissioner to an individual to supervise and to process spraying, dipping and immersing materials and equipment, in accordance with the provisions of Section C19-14.0 of the Administrative Code and these Rules.

Rule 3. Ventilation.

3.1 Spraying or dipping spaces shall be ventilated when in operation so that the movement of air shall be at least one hundred (100') linear feet per minute in the breathing zone of the operator and be of sufficient capacity to prevent the accumulation of mist or vapors. For requirements of ventilation of storage rooms see Rule 4.4.1.

3.2 Air shall be admitted to the spraying, dipping or immersing spaces in an amount equal to the capacity of the fan or fans and in such a manner as to avoid short-circuiting the path of air in the working zone of such spaces. Exhaust fans shall be kept running constantly while spraying, mixing or dipping. Exhaust fan control shall be interconnected with spray gun so as to operate simultaneously. Exhaust fans shall, in addition, be arranged to operate independently of spray gun. Ventilation Equipment shall be kept in operation for a sufficient length of time thereafter to exhaust all vapors, fumes or residues of spraying materials from the spray booth, dip space or drying room. Air admitted to the spraying, dipping, immersing, drying spaces or storage rooms shall be fresh air taken from the outside of the building.

3.3 EQUIPMENT. Motors shall be located outside of spraying, dipping or immersing spaces except as provided in Rule 4.

Rule 4. Specification for Spray Booths, Spray Rooms, Dip and Immersing Rooms, Drying Equipment and Material Storage Rooms.

4.1 Spray booths shall be constructed of metal or incombustible materials satisfactory to the administrative official having jurisdiction. Ventilation and lighting for spray booths, spray rooms, dipping rooms, drying rooms and storage rooms shall comply with the requirements of these rules.

4.1.1 Spray, dip and immersing rooms shall be enclosed on all sides with partitions constructed of incombustible materials with floors in such rooms of concrete. Where such rooms are located over wooden floors, such wooden floors shall be surfaced with 1" of grout adequately reinforced or a mixture of Portland cement, and sand similarly reinforced. Ceilings over such rooms shall be protected by $\frac{5}{8}$ " unsanded gypsum plaster or $\frac{7}{8}$ " of cement or sanded gypsum plaster on approved 3.0 lb metal lath or other equivalent fire resisting ceiling protection. Ventilation, lighting and heating for these rooms shall comply with the requirements of these rules. Where additional fire fighting equipment is necessary such equipment shall be furnished in accordance with the direction of the Fire Commissioner. Floor drains leading to the house draining system or the public sewer shall not be permitted. Dip tanks shall be provided with hinged metal covers held open by a fusible link, such covers to be equipped with an opening to permit automatic flooding of the tank with fire extinguishing media of a type and so located as the Fire Commissioner shall direct. Where the work process, such as conveyerized operation, makes the use of a cover impractical, the dip tank and drain boards shall be protected by an adequate extinguishing system designed for manual and automatic operation satisfactory to the Fire Commissioner and such conveyor shall be interlocked with the extinguishing system so that in the event the extinguishing system is activated, the conveyor action shall be stopped.

4.1.2 Panels of polished wired glass or plate-glass at least one-quarter ($\frac{1}{4}$) of an inch thick, not exceeding seven hundred and twenty (720) square inches in area and not more than forty-eight (48") inches in any linear dimension may be used in the sides of a spray booth or room.

4.1.3 The inner sides of walls, ceilings and the floors of all spraying or dipping spaces shall have a smooth surface.

4.1.4 All openings in spray, dip or immersing rooms shall be protected by fireproof opening protective assemblies. Windows opening on a street may be used to provide ventilation but no window on a lot line or less than 20 ft. from any opening in a wall of an adjacent building shall be permitted except when the subject room is more than 20 ft., in the horizontal plane, above an adjoining building.

4.1.5 Ferrous metals used in the construction of spraying, dipping or immersing spaces shall be thoroughly painted on the inside or be galvanized.

4.1.6 All spraying, dipping or immersing spaces shall be so constructed that at least three (3) feet of clear working space shall always be maintained for each operator spraying, dipping or immersing the material being processed.

4.2 STORAGE ROOMS.

4.2.1 Storage rooms shall be constructed of fireproof or fire resisting material and shall have a window opening to the outer air but such window shall not be on a lot line, enclosed court, nor opposite within twenty feet of windows of adjacent buildings nor part of the same premises, such window openings to be fireproofed and lower half provided with open louvers or ventilated by metal duct or fan at least 8 inches in diameter. The floors of all storage rooms shall be of incombustible non-ferrous materials. The sill of the door shall be at least 6 inches above the finished floor. All doors to be tin-clad, approved, fireproof and self-closing.

The lighting equipment shall comply with rule 4.5.2.2 and shall have an electric switch located outside the room. Immediately adjacent to such room shall be provided such portable fire extinguishing equipment for use within the storage room as the Fire Commissioner shall direct.

4.3 DRYING EQUIPMENT.

4.3.1 Gas Fired Drying Ovens. Gas fired drying ovens shall be of a type as approved by the Board. Such ovens shall be constructed of metal and incombustible materials so designed as to preclude the direct application of flame to the materials in process. Ventilation shall be provided for each oven of sufficient capacity to maintain an oven vapor concentration at all times during the drying process of less than $\frac{1}{4}$ the low explosive limit of the solvent used. All oven openings shall be maintained at a negative pressure relative to room pressure for inward flow. The controls for the safety exhaust and recirculating fans shall be properly interlocked with the gas supply line so that when the gas is flowing the fans are in operation. A time delay relay shall be installed to provide a minimum of four oven volume changes with fresh air and in the case of an indirect fired type of oven simultaneous purging of the combustion chamber before the ignition system can be energized and gas flow started. Each oven shall be equipped with gas burning equipment approved for such use and with electrical controls so arranged as to shut off the gas valve when ignition fails or the gas supply pressure drops to 2 inches of water.

The use of a continuous gas pilot light is prohibited unless an automatic gas shut off valve is provided which will shut the gas off at the pilot light when the flame is extinguished or the supply of gas cut off. Electrical pilot ignition shall be of the continuous type or equal in performance, designed for use in high temperatures, with controls so interlocked as to shut off the gas supply when current is interrupted. An auxiliary manually operated gas shut off valve shall be located not nearer than 25 feet from the oven so as to control the gas supply in the event of an emergency. Such ovens shall be adequately insulated on all sides and top to limit the maximum surface temperature to 140°F and to 160°F on the base, unless the floor is protected by a 3 inch mat of reinforced concrete placed over and bonded into the existing concrete floor and projecting not less than 6 inches outside the projected area of the equipment or unless an unenclosed clear air space not less than 4 inches above the concrete floor is maintained between the floor and the underside of the oven.

4.3.1.1 The burner section of gas fired drying ovens shall not be located nearer than 25 feet from spraying or dipping spaces except when separated by fire proof construction, in which case the distance between burner section and spray or dip space shall be not less than 25 feet measured in the shortest line of travel.

4.3.2 ELECTRIC INFRA-RED RAY DRYING OVENS.

4.3.2.1 Electric Infra Red Ray Drying Ovens shall be of a type as approved by the Board. Such ovens shall be constructed of electric equipment installed in accordance with the National Electric Code and the requirements of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity. Ovens when erected shall be placed on concrete floors without any additional protection, provided that at least 12 inches of clear space above the floor is provided to permit adequate ventilation.

4.3.2.1.1 In drying processed material involving the evaporation of considerable amounts of flammable solvents by infra-red lamps, such installations shall not be confined in small rooms unless such rooms are thoroughly ventilated by a power driven ventilation system of sufficient capacity to maintain a vapor concentration at all times during the drying process of less than $\frac{1}{4}$ the low explosive limit of the solvent used; the controls of the ventilation system to be so interlocked with the Infra-Red Ray System that the latter cannot function unless the ventilating system is in operation. When equipped with duct ventilating system, the Infra-Red Ray Oven shall be adequately secured so as to prevent moving.

4.3.2.1.2 Where the evaporation of a considerable amount of flammable vapors are involved, ventilated hoods located as near to the floor as practicable or enclosures shall be provided at the initial stage of the process with adequate exhaust system to discharge the primary evaporation from the solvents to the outer air, so that when the processed material progresses through the lamp drying tunnels only a comparatively small amount of solvent is left for evaporation. A space between such ventilating section and the drying section shall be maintained.

4.3.2.1.3 Lamps and other electrical equipment shall be kept free from flammable deposits and adequate cleaning shall be maintained.

4.3.2.1.4 Lamp and resistance heater type drying units shall be separated from spraying and dipping processes complying with these rules by a distance of at least 15 feet or shall be installed in a separate fireproof room.

4.3.2.1.5 Controls shall be arranged so that the lamps in the tunnels will be shut off automatically if and when the conveyor stops.

4.3.2.1.6 Where there are no conveyors and the material being processed is left stationary in the dryer there shall be an excessive temperature switch to shut off the lamps or resistance heaters to avoid overheating the material being processed if it is not removed from the dryer in time.

4.3.2.1.7 Material to be processed on the conveyors shall be rigidly supported so as not to be liable to displacement and cause lamp breakage and short circuits. Where there are no conveyors, materials should be fixed on dollies running on tracks or other equivalent method to accomplish the same result.

4.3.3 The temperature of the air contacting the processed material or of the material itself shall not be higher than that to which such material can be safely subjected.

RULES

4.3.4 Such fire fighting equipment suitable for electrical and solvent vapor fires shall be provided as the Fire Commissioner may direct.

4.4 SPECIFICATIONS FOR DUCTS, PIPES AND FANS.

4.4.1 All ducts used for ventilating spray, dip or immersing spaces shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials or metal of not less than the following gauges of metal:

Ducts twenty-four (24") inches or less in diameter No. 22 gauge.

Ducts over twenty-four (24") inches and not over thirty-six (36") inches in diameter No. 20 gauge.

Ducts exceeding thirty-six (36") inches in diameter No. 18 gauge.

4.4.2 Ducts shall be strongly constructed and be installed in a workmanlike manner. They shall be rigidly supported.

4.4.3 Ventilating ducts shall run as directly as practicable to the outer air and be protected with a hood against the weather. The exhaust terminal or hood shall also be protected with a screen of copper or bronze with a mesh not larger than one-quarter ($\frac{1}{4}$ ") inch.

4.4.4 Where a duct passes through a non-fireproof floor or roof, the duct shall be protected at such point by an outer pipe or sleeve with an air space of at least one (1") inch between the sleeve and pipe protected from the woodwork by at least a 1" blanket of asbestos, compressed rockwool or glasswool, or equivalent fire-resistive material extending through the entire depth of the ceiling construction and adequately secured to the outer pipe. The outer pipe shall be not less than two (2") inches from any woodwork and such woodwork shall be covered with at least 26 gauge metal or other incombustible material.

4.4.5 Ventilating ducts shall not terminate within ten (10) feet measured horizontally of any chimney outlet, unprotected air intakes or within twenty (20) feet of any exit or any opening in an adjoining building.

4.4.6 If induced draft is used to create an air movement, the air shall be supplied from a point outside the spray or dip or immersing space. Fans and motor must be located outside the spray, or dip space, except approved explosion-proof motor and non-ferrous blade fans which, however, are not to be located where residues of spraying material may collect on such equipment.

4.4.7 The exhaust system from any spray, dip or immersing space shall not be connected to any other ventilating system or be discharged into a chimney or flue used for the purpose of conveying gases of combustion.

4.4.8 Exhaust fan blades shall be constructed of non-ferrous metal. All exhaust and ventilating fans to be permanently connected to their source of power, using metallic conduit. Rheostats in fan bases not permitted. Fan blades not coming in direct contact, with spraying fumes, need not comply with this requirement.

4.4.9 Adequate access doors or panels have tight fitting by means of screw bolts, clamps or springs shall be provided, to permit inspection and cleaning.

4.5 ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT AND LIGHTING FIXTURES.

4.5.1 No motors, switches, rheostats, lamps, fluorescent light or other electrical equipment shall be located in spray, dipping or immersing rooms or within ten (10') feet of the open end of any spray compartment, spray booth, immersing or dipping space unless such electrical equipment be of a type approved for use in explosive atmosphere and where a conduit leads from a hazardous location to a non-hazardous location, the conduit shall be sealed off by an approved sealing compound. Except that alternating current induction motors of the totally enclosed type, having no brushes make and break contacts, collectors or other arcing or sparking parts may be located within ten (10') feet of a spray booth, spray compartment or dipping space when approved by the administrative official having jurisdiction. No open flame shall be used within 25 ft. of spray, dip or coating space or paint storage room or cabinet except when separated by fireproof construction, except as provided in Rule 4.3.1. Gas Fired Drying Ovens and 4.3.2.1.4 Electric Infra Red Dry Ovens.

4.5.2 Lighting Fixtures.

4.5.2.1 Artificial lighting shall be only by means of electricity.

4.5.2.2 When lighting fixtures are located within 10 feet of a spray booth, spraying space, dipping space or within a storage room they shall be of the rigid stem type, enclosing all wiring and be equipped with keyless sockets having vapor proof globes. Where exposed to breakage, globes shall be adequately protected by substantial metal guards or equivalent means. Fluorescent tube type lighting fixtures when used in spray booths or in spray and dip spaces or in storage rooms or rooms containing inflammable vapors, shall be of a type approved for use in explosive atmospheres. The auxiliaries of mercury vapor lamps shall be offset at least ten (10) feet from spray booth, spray or dip spaces unless enclosed in explosion-proof protection.

4.5.2.3 All electrical equipment shall be installed and grounded as provided by the Administrative Code covering electrical equipment and permanently connected to their source of current supply, using metallic conduit.

4.5.2.4 No pin plug receptacles shall be used except when the use of receptacles and attachment plugs become necessary they shall be so connected to form a part of a unit device with explosion-proof interlocking switch precluding the removal of the plug when the switch is in the "on" position or by an approved explosion-proof enclosure which can seal the arc when the current is interrupted. Such receptacles and plugs shall be of the polarized type providing a connection for the grounding wire of the portable cords.

RULES

4.5.2.5 All electric wiring shall be enclosed in rigid standard weight metallic conduits with explosion proof joints and fittings. Joints in metallic conduit having threaded couplings shall not have less than five (5) fully engaged threads. Where flexible connections are required a flexible fitting approved for explosive atmospheres shall be used.

4.5.2.6 The use of portable cords or trailer lights are prohibited, except when flexible cord approved for hard usage containing one (1) extra insulated conductor properly connected to form a grounding connection for metal lamp guards, motor frames and all other exposed metal portions of such portable lamps and devices may be used. When portable lamps are used they shall be enclosed in a manner approved for explosive atmospheres and with substantial guards of metal to prevent breakage. Sockets shall be of the keyless moulded composition type with no exposed metal parts.

Rule 5. Maintenance and Operation.

5.1 Every premises wherein a spraying, dipping, or immersing space is maintained and operated shall be continuously under the charge and supervision of one or more persons holding a certificate of fitness, whose duty shall be to see that the spray, dipping and immersing space comply with the rules and the terms of the permit are not violated. No other duties shall interfere with the enforcement of these rules while the work is in process. A copy of these rules shall be available near the space where these rules apply.

5.2 Smoking or the carrying of lighted cigars, cigarettes, matches, or pipes in spray, dipping or immersing space is prohibited.

5.3 No person shall be permitted within a spray space between the spray gun and the exhaust outlet while the spray gun is in use.

RULES

Fire Drill Rules, Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 5, 1923

(593-23-SR)

DEFINITION OF "FIRE DRILL"

The method and practice of the systematic and orderly vacating of a building by its occupants in case of emergency, panic or fire in the least possible time—by the nearest safe means of exit—and the use of fire appliances which shall be provided for the extinguishing or retarding of fire and the safeguarding of human life.

Rule 1.

In all buildings as defined in Article 1, Section 10 of the Labor Law in which fire drills are required pursuant to Section 279 thereof and in any other building in which such drills are required by the Fire Commissioner pursuant to the power conferred in section 491 of the New York City Charter, it shall be the duty of the owners, lessees or tenants to conduct fire drills monthly and at such other times as the Fire Commissioner may direct.

For the purpose of conducting such fire drills the owner or tenants shall appoint from among their employees such responsible and dependable persons, male or female, who shall efficiently perform the duties of the various positions of the fire drill organization, as specified on the accompanying chart.

It shall be the duty of the owner or tenant to enter in the blank spaces provided for that purpose in said chart the names of persons so selected and post said chart and copies of the rules in a conspicuous place.

Rule 2. Duties of Foreman.

The Foreman or Person in Charge shall direct, enforce and have full charge of the "Fire Drill" in every factory on each floor. Each day before work is begun he shall see that extinguishers, fire hose, fire buckets, etc., are in readiness for use, exit doors are unlocked, aisles are free from obstruction, that stairways, halls, etc., are properly lighted, and shall remedy any dangerous condition found to exist. Immediately after work is commenced he shall check up the Fire Drill Organization list and note if the regularly assigned persons are present; if any are found to be absent, he shall assign other employees (if practicable) to perform their duties.

He shall immediately notify new employees of the existence of the Fire Drill Organization and give them the necessary instructions as to the duties they are to perform, etc.

He shall be familiar with the operation and location of the interior alarm signal box on his floor.

He shall listen for the test signal each morning at the appointed hour and in the event of the test signal not being heard he shall communicate with the superintendent or other person in charge of the building and advise him of the fact. The (Floor Captain's) Foreman's orders are final as to the carrying out of the fire drill on his particular floor.

Rule 3. Duties of Watchmen.

The WATCHMEN shall see that all doors and windows are closed so as to prevent the spread of fire. The WATCHMEN shall be the only persons permitted to remain on the floor during the progress of a fire drill and do so at their own risk. For ordinary purposes only one watchman and a substitute shall be designated. In special cases, however, extra watchmen may be assigned by consent in writing from Fire Commissioner.

Rule 4. Duties of Searchers.

The MALE AND FEMALE SEARCHERS shall search all toilets, dressing rooms and emergency rooms used and frequented by their sex and all other portions of the floor and order all persons, except those authorized to remain, to leave the premises. They are to take care of and assist all persons who may faint or be disabled.

SEARCHERS shall leave the floor immediately after the last squad leaves.

Rule 5. Duties of Street Alarm Box Runner.

The STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall be familiar with the location of the nearest city fire alarm box and know how it is operated.

In ordinary practice fire drills the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall report to the Foreman for orders, and if his services are not required he shall promptly file out of the premises with the other occupants.

RULES

Only when a fire actually occurs on his floor, or when ordered to do so by the Foreman, shall the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER proceed to the street alarm box and send in the fire alarm.

Rule 6. Duties of Fire Brigade.

The fire brigade shall have full charge of the operation of all auxiliary fire fighting apparatus and shall endeavor to extinguish, or at least hold in check until the arrival of the Fire Department, any fire that may occur. When it is necessary for the fire brigade to respond to different floors in the building they shall not use the stairways or fire escapes while the occupants are escaping from the premises.

Rule 7. Duties of Exit Guards.

The EXIT GUARDS shall station themselves at all exit doors leading to fire escapes, stairways, and other means of escape immediately upon the sounding of the alarm. There shall be two guards for each exit, if practicable; one to stand in the hallway holding back the door and the other directly inside on the floor. They are to keep the exit doors open and direct the movements of the persons using these exits and prevent congestion.

EXIT GUARDS shall remain at their stations until all of the occupants of the building have passed their station. Then close their doors and pass out of the building. Upon signal for the occupants to return, EXIT GUARDS shall take their designated stations and remain there until all persons have returned to their respective floors.

Rule 8. Duties of Squad Monitors.

The SQUAD MONITORS, as soon as the alarm is sounded, shall see that the employees under their charge quickly form into line, two abreast, and numbering not more than thirty to each squad. They shall see that all aisles and passageways are cleared of obstructions.

Note: Chairs, stools, baskets, etc., should be pushed under or placed on top of work benches.

MONITORS shall proceed at the head of their respective squads to the exit assigned, and then march up or down the stairs or to other exits as directed by the EXIT GUARDS.

On reaching the sidewalk MONITORS shall keep their squads in order and lead them a reasonable distance from the building, so as not to cause congestion and interference with fire apparatus. When the proper signal is given they shall return to their respective floors at head of their squads.

MONITORS will at all times see that those under their charge conduct themselves in a respectable and orderly manner.

Rule 9. Holding of Drills.

FIRE DRILLS shall be held at least once each month at varied hours of the day, and all of the occupants shall participate therein simultaneously. Such drills shall conduct all occupants to a place of safety.

Where dual operation interior fire alarm systems are installed as permitted under Rule 10.1 of the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the fire drill conducted each month shall include all of the persons on the premises engaged at work for a factory, and drills shall be conducted at least twice, each year in which all of the persons on the premises shall participate simultaneously.

Rule 10. Duties of Owner.

It shall be the duty of the OWNER, LESSEE OR TENANT OF THE BUILDING or his authorized agent or their representatives to personally observe that the "Fire Drill" is held simultaneously on every floor of the building and the participation therein of every occupant of such building. Any FIRE DRILL in which all of the occupants do not participate shall not be considered as complying with the LAW, except as otherwise provided in these rules.

The person or persons representing the OWNERS, LESSEE OR TENANT, who supervises the FIRE DRILL at the building shall submit to an examination by the Division of Fire Prevention as to their experience and general fitness for such duties, and shall be so certified in writing by the FIRE COMMISSIONER.

It shall be the duty of the ENGINEER, SUPERINTENDENT or other PERSON IN CHARGE, of a building having an interior fire alarm system to test such system daily, immediately after the beginning of business, and to see that all apparatus operated by springs, requiring winding are rewound after each alarm and kept in normal condition for operation.

Rule 11. Duties of Engineer.

Whenever it is necessary to test the fire alarm system at any other time of the day, owing to repairs, etc., being made, the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING will first notify all Foremen of the several floors of the intended test and likewise notify them when the repairs, etc. are completed. This precaution is taken to prevent confusion and excitement, also misunderstanding of the alarm signals.

It shall also be the duty of the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING to sound the interior alarm system at irregular intervals, but not less than once each calendar month, for the purpose of holding practice fire drills. He shall keep on the premises a record of such drills, showing the date when held and the required time for all occupants to reach the street or a point of safety outside the building.

The PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING must immediately acquaint new tenants of the existence of the "Fire Drill" Organization and its purport.

Rule 12. Registration.

The name and address of every person, corporation or co-partnership, that will, under professional service, carry on the trade, business or calling of establishing, maintaining or supervising the "Fire Drill" shall be registered in the Fire Department, which Department shall, upon evidence of fitness, grant a certificate to that effect.
